Artist Development Company Accepting Submissions From Talented Texas-Based Bands/Artists!

March 10, 2008 - Austin, TX – Texas Time Artist Services (TTAS) announces an open call for submissions from talented Texas-based musicians. Co-owner, Eric McKinney states, “We’ll be accepting submissions from bands/artists outside of Texas, but note our focus is indeed on those closer to home primarily because the Texas scene is where my partners and I have the most industry contacts and have built-up relationships with key individuals over the years.” Co-owner Wiley Koepp adds, “Like many involved in the music biz for so many years, we have friends and industry contacts in many music mecca’s, such as New York, Los Angeles, Boston, Nashville, but a good majority are within the boundaries of Texas, which is a focused market for TTAS.”

Wonderland Studios and Coyote Music partnered to form and lay the initial groundwork for Texas Time Artist Services in 2007. Eric states, “Between me and my business partners, we’ve been doing this line of work for a long time, artist development and consultation, among many other music industry jobs since the 90’s. We thought it was time to actually form a business offering all of these services in a one-stop shop, so to speak, for key bands/artists we truly believe in and for those that have the essential elements for success.”

Texas Time Artist Services is a unique artist development, booking, consulting, production, marketing and promotional company based in Austin, Texas. They provide select bands and artists a wide-range of services to help promote, record CD's, book shows/tours, market and develop themselves and continually move their music career forward.

TTAS is passionate about working with talented bands/artists and providing services that help get them to that next level of artistic growth. From experience, they've seen that every band/artist is unique and often requires different customized plans, consultation, development of their performances/songs/band, creative marketing, well-timed and effective promotional campaigns.

TTAS and their business partners maintain a high reputation by working with extremely talented bands/artists, and professional music industry contacts. They're always scouting for those that have all the necessary elements for a successful music career. These elements include dedication, stage presence, high-level of musicianship, true talent, great material, and a good work ethic. Over the years, the owners of TTAS have been involved in almost every aspect of artists' careers. Their main concern with every band or artist that they take on as a client is successful career development and artistic growth -- helping them get to where they want to be with their career.
